

Notice

Ohio University General Receipts Bonds Delay of FY2024 Audit

Delay of FY2024 Audit; Interim Filing of Draft Financial Statements

Interim Filing of Draft Financial Statements Pursuant to the Ohio University's Continuing Disclosure Certificates in connection with its outstanding General Receipts Bonds, Ohio University (the University) hereby provides notice that the final version of the University's fiscal year 2024 audited financial statements will be delayed due to recent developments around the related party transactions disclosures that are required by the Department of Education. The State of Ohio has not yet certified final reports for issuance for any public university in state, including Ohio University.

In the interim, the University is filing a draft version of the University's fiscal year 2024 financial statements. In addition, the University's Annual Financial Information Statement (AFIS) for fiscal year 2024 contains financial information based upon the University's draft fiscal year 2024 financial statements. As soon as the University's fiscal year 2024 audited financial statements are available, the University intends to file the final version of fiscal year 2024 audited financial statements pursuant to the University's Continuing Disclosure Certificates. If there are any changes to the financial information included in the AFIS, the University will update the AFIS in conjunction with the filing of its final fiscal year 2024 audited financial statements.

December 6, 2024